

INDEX TO VOLUME III

A

- Abdomen, Pathology in right upper, L. J. Carter, 189.
- Abstracts—
- Abdomen, X-ray examination of upper, for malignant disease, H. M. Tovell, 523.
- Acne vulgaris, Roy Blosser, 496.
- Aneurysm of aorta, Roentgen diagnosis of, E. C. Samuel, 160.
- Arthritis, Age factor in hypertrophic, T. A. Willis, 501.
- Atelectasis as roentgen-ray sign of foreign body in air passages, W. F. Manges, 300.
- Backache from vertebral anomaly, T. A. Willis, 491.
- Bacterial invasion of blood stream as influenced by X-ray destruction of mucosal epithelium of small intestine, S. L. Warren and G. H. Whipple, 87.
- Biophysical law governing surgical mortality, G. W. Crile, 523.
- Blood counts and basal metabolism of leukemias under roentgen-ray treatment, K. R. McAlpin and B. J. Sanger, 144.
- Bone marrow, Effects of X-rays on, E. H. Falconer, L. M. Morris and H. E. Ruggles, 135.
- Bone tumors, Clinical and pathologic study of ten, J. J. Morton and W. C. Duffy, 88.
- Cancer, breast, Metastasis in, W. A. Coventry, 522.
- Cancer, Factors regulating cellular growth and their importance in the explanation of, Montrose T. Burrows, 527.
- Cancer, Influence of radiation therapy on study of, James Ewing, 485.
- Cancer, intra-oral, Treatment of, Douglas Quick, 450.
- Cancer, Limitations in radiotherapy of, F. C. Wood, 59.
- Cancer of cervix, S. Forsdike, 363.
- Cancer of cervix, Action of radium upon, T. Zbinden, 89.
- Cancer of esophagus in general practice, G. F. Helsley, 272.
- Cancer of larynx, Intrinsic, H. Smith, 363.
- Cancer of uterus, Clinical observations in treatment of, A. J. Ochsner, 401.
- Cancer of uterus, Treatment of, C. W. Moots, 90.
- Cancer of uterus, Treatment of, with radium and X-ray, W. P. Healy, 466.
- Cancer, Palliative doses of roentgen ray in advanced, E. T. Leddy and J. L. Weatherwax, 271.
- Cancer, Present status of radiation therapy in, A. U. Desjardins, 224.
- Cancer, Radiographic diagnosis of vertebral, with radiculo-medullary compression, Sicard, Forestier and Lermoyez, 179.
- Cancer, skin, Radium treatment for, F. C. Harrison, 503.
- Cancer, X-ray treatment of, B. E. Rhudy, 85.
- Cancers, Importance of histology in appreciation of radio-sensitiveness of epithelial, A. Lacassagne, 180.
- Carbuncles and other infections, Roentgen ray in treatment of, F. M. Hodges, 188.
- Carcinoma, mammary, Radiation in treatment of, B. J. Lee, 454.
- Carcinoma of antrum, Radium treatment of, Frederick M. Johnson, 449.
- Carcinoma of antrum, Treatment of, F. M. Johnson, 398.
- Carcinoma of bladder and prostate, Radium treatment of, B. S. Barringer, 522.
- Carcinoma of breast, Radiation in the treatment of, George E. Pfahler, 526.
- Carcinoma of esophagus, Some considerations in treatment of, Douglas Quick, 207.
- Carcinoma of tonsil, Deep roentgen and radium therapy in, G. W. Grier, 322.
- Carcinoma of uterine cervix, Technic and results in treatment of, at "Radiumhemmet," Stockholm, H. V. J. Heyman, 360.
- Carcinoma of uterus, Results of X-ray therapy of, E. Muhlmann, 182.
- Carcinoma, Primary, of gastro-intestinal tract accompanied by bone metastasis, E. L. Jenkinson, 271.
- Cardiac examination, Value of roentgen-ray measurements in, D. S. Dann, 182.
- Chest, X-ray studies of, in infants and children, H. K. Pancoast, 157.
- Cholecystitis, Roentgenological diagnosis of chronic, F. S. Bissell, 68.
- Circulation, Observations on a group of marathon runners, with special reference to the, B. Gordon, S. A. Levine and A. Wilmaers, 523.
- Colon, Studies of, R. Walter Mills and H. W. Soper, 447.
- Congenital obstruction of median basilic vein and deep axillary lymph channels, Roentgen findings in case of, F. E. Diemer and F. E. Butler, 431.
- Coolidge tube quantitative variations, G. M. MacKee and G. C. Andrews, 227.
- Cystograms: their clinical application and possible misinterpretation, H. C. Bumpus, 471.
- Duodenal obstruction, Partial, G. E. Nesbitt, 359.
- Duodenal ulcers, Newer phases in roentgen interpretation of, J. S. Diamond, 9.
- Electricity, X-ray, ultra-violet ray and radium, Therapeutic uses of: Methods and results, Sinclair Tousey, 221.
- Esophageal diverticula, J. H. Shephard, 292.
- Exophthalmic goiter, Roentgen-ray therapy in treatment of, G. M. Goodwin and W. B. Long, 54.
- Foreign bodies in bronchi, Clinical features of, Thomas McCrae, 272.
- Fracture work, Five years of, with special reference to open reductions, H. E. McGuire, 453.
- Gastro-intestinal tract, Multiple polyposis of the, John E. Struthers, 528.
- Gastrojejunal fistula, Diagnosis and treatment of, W. A. Brams and K. A. Meyer, 522.
- Gynecology, Uses of X-ray in, M. E. Hanks, 269.
- Hearing, X-ray as advance in treatment of impaired, J. J. Richardson, 363.
- Heart, Further observations upon shadows of thymus and, L. R. DeBuys and E. C. Samuels, 527.
- Hernias, Intra-abdominal, N. H. Copenhaver, 68.
- Hodgkin's disease, Treatment of, by X-ray and radium, based upon study of 200 cases, W. S. Stone, 525.
- Hydrocephalus, Cerebral pneumography as aid in early diagnosis of, O. S. Wyatt, 73.
- Hyperthyroidism, X-ray therapy in toxic, H. K. Dunham, 87.
- Infancy, Wasting disorders of early, L. G. Parsons, 360.

- Intensifying screens and film, Some causes of poor contact between, R. B. Wilsey, 139.
- Intestinal lesions and acute intoxication produced by radiation in variety of animals, S. L. Warren and G. H. Whipple, 86.
- Intracranial pressure, Roentgen signs of increased, L. J. Friedman, 6.
- Irradiation, Effect of, on Malignancy and Patient, S. S. Marchbanks and T. C. Crowell, 526.
- Joint, Causes of and changes in loose bodies arising from articular surface of, D. B. Phemister, 450.
- Keloids, Roentgen-ray treatment of, H. H. Hazen, 393.
- Larynx, Concerning the question of injuries to, by X-rays, H. Schmitz, 182.
- Lipiodol, Use of, in diagnosis of bronchiectasis, P. F. Armand-Delille and Alan Moncrieff, 364.
- Lung, Massive collapse of, G. W. Holmes, 361.
- Malignant disease and its treatment by X-rays, radium and electrocoagulation, G. E. Pfahler, 89.
- Mastoid disease, Studies of, by X-rays, with clinical observations and operative findings, M. S. Ersner, 449.
- Mastoid disease, Studies of, by X-rays, with operative findings; demonstration of special localizer, G. E. Pfahler, 362.
- Mediastinum and its contents, Disease of the, Charles E. Hamilton, 527.
- Metabolic changes associated with X-ray and radium treatment, E. C. Dodds and J. H. D. Webster, 270.
- Metabolism of human organism, Influence of X-rays on body juices and, A. Mahner and H. Zacherl, 182.
- Myeloma, Anatomic and chemical report on unique case of, A. W. Meyer and F. A. Cajori, 525.
- Neoplasms, Diagnosis of primary intrathoracic, G. F. Thomas and H. L. Farmer, 239.
- Offspring, Effect on, of roentgen-ray treatment of the mother, L. F. Driessen, 357.
- Opaque substance, Use of strontium bromatum as, 182.
- Optic canal in cases of optic nerve involvement, Anatomic and X-ray study of, L. E. White, 90.
- Optic nerve involvements, Treatment of, as determined by optic canal radiographs, L. E. White, 451.
- Osteogenesis imperfecta, R. L. Knaggs, 181.
- Osteoma of sphenoid bone and dural endothelioma: report of case, J. D. Camp, 346.
- Osteomalacia, On late rickets and, H. S. Hutchison and Grace Stapleton, 525.
- Paranasal sinuses, Malignant growths of, treated by irradiation, electrocoagulation and other methods, Rollin H. Stevens, 448.
- Pernicious anemia, Roentgen-ray treatment of, P. Haggene, 85.
- Pleurisy of hilum region, Harold Swanberg, 525.
- Pneumoperitoneum by X-rays as means of diagnosing ovarian tumors, A. Chueco, 179.
- Pneumothorax, Artificial, in treatment of pulmonary tuberculosis, E. D. Price, 453.
- Pregnancies, Roentgen-ray diagnosis of normal and abnormal, E. Speidel and H. H. Turner, 451.
